5. Workshop on Handling of Photo reactor Electrochemical Workstation

Report

Report - Workshop on "Handling of Photoreactor and electrolytic workstation"

Resource Person: Dr. N. Vasimalai M.Sc., M.Phil., PhD
Assistant Professor (Sel.Gr),
B.S. Abdur Rahman Crescent Institute of Science & Technology (Deemed University),
Vandalur, Chennai – 600 0048, Tamilnadu, India.

Date : 24.2.2022

The Department of chemistry organised workshop on "Handling of Photoreactor and electrolytic workstation" on 24.02.2022. The session started with a welcome address by Dr. E. Vaishnavi. The Research Scholar, facilities and Post graduate students from Physics and other institution actively participated in the workshop

The resource person demonstrated the Cleaning process of electrodes, Maintenance of instrument and Working of the cyclic voltammetry, various other techniques in CH instrument, in addition working of Super capacitor was also demonstrated.

In the afternoon session, working of the Photoreactor, Photocatalysis and Photoreactor analysis was discussed. A dye degradation experiment was also demonstrated by the resource person. Eagerly the participants worked with their samples and got satisfied. The session was very interactive and came to an end with vote of thanks by Mrs.R.Chitradevi. Total No of Beneficiaries are 17.

No. of Beneficiaries : 17

The programme started with the welcome address by Dr. E. Vaishnavi, Assistant professor in chemistry. The resource person Dr. N. Vasimalai explained the principle behind photoreactor & electrochemical workstation and its applications in various areas such as Supercapacitor, battery, HER, CER, electrochemical sensing etc. Some of the samples received from research scholars were analysed and their results explained with graphical data. Faculty members from Government arts college and Research Scholars from Govt. arts college Udumalpet & NGM College pollachi and our department faculties were benefitted through this workshop. The session came to an end with vote of thanks by Mrs. V. Anitha, Assistant professor, Department of Chemistry.

Feedback

- Morning Session class was very elaborate regarding electro chemistry
- Dr. N. Vasimalai sir taught topics very elaborately so that we can understand clearly about the topic and the session was very interesting.
- Afternoon session, Instrument handling also very superb, Sir, teaches HCH- Instrumentation in very good manner, as it is very useful for our research work and also to handle the instrument.
- We are very thankful for conducting this workshop, so that we can elaborate our knowledge in teaching field, Research field etc.
- Thank you, for all faculties for conducting this workshop.

I am currently doing my PG degree.
I am very new to these research experiments
Sir explained about the electrochemical workstation handly with basics it was very useful for me to understand. Actually I missed the morning session
But the clear explanation of Vasimalai sir, I had understood about this CV experiments. It was a very informative session. It was also useful for my project work as well. Keep conducting this type of workshops regularly.

Thank you for this college and respected chemistry department for organising this.

National Level Two Days Conference on Paradigm Shift in Education for 21st Century: National Education Policy

Report

Report of National Level Two Days Conference on Paradigm Shift in Education for 21st Century: National Education Policy 25th and 26th February 2022

IQAC and CDC of Sri GVG Visalakshi College for Women, Udumalpet Organised a National Level Two Days Conference on Paradigm Shift in Education for 21st Century: National Education Policy 25th and 26th February 2022. On the first day Secretary Smt. Sumathi Krishna Prasad presided over the Inaugural Function and the conference commenced with the lighting of kuthuvilakku. Following Tamil Thai Vazthu, the Principal Dr.N.Rajeswari welcomed the delegates and participants. In her address she said that quality is everyone's responsibility, and it's essential to nurture a culture of continuous quality improvement and optimum utilization of resources. The Director Dr.J.Manjula in her presidential address stated that the students of the present generation have to compete with the global arena and emerge out as great citizens rather than an ordinary dreamer.

The Chief Guest Dr.E.Balagurusamy, Chairman, EBG- Foundation, Coimbatore delivered the inaugural address. In his speech, he highlighted that quality is a major issue of National Education Policy. He stated that he is more concerned about educational achievements and brought forth two important objectives about quality. First to equip the youth with life skills, entrepreneurial skills, moral values and ethics. Second is to encourage creativity and innovation of youth which is a part of the development process. He emphasized that all universities in India should become multidisciplinary universities and the purpose of education is to make people happy. Dr.S.Aram, CDC Convenor and Associate Professor of Physics proposed a vote of thanks.

Dr.AmiU.Upadhyay, Vice-Chancellor, Dr.Babashahele Ambedkar Open University, Gujarat was the Resource Person of the first session. Her focus was on the topic "NEP 2020: Opening of new horizons for Vishwaguru Bharat". She accentuated that NEP focuses on the dignity of labour, vocational training and skill training. Further National Research Foundation should be established to promote research.

Dr.Shaklia.T.Shamsu, Formerly officer on special duty, Department of Higher Education, Ministry of Education, Government of India, the resource person of the second session shared her views on the topic “ NEP 2020: Heraldng reforms in Higher Education”. She expressed that the education system has to nurture the unique potentials of every student and contribute to their early stage of neuraldevelopment. She assured that NEP 2020 makes differentiation in the potential of a child and teaching learner centered rather than teacher centered. She also make emphasis on the multidisciplinary aspects of future colleges.

Dr.Pankaj Mittal, Secretary General, Association of Indian Universities, New Delhi, the resource person of the third session addressed the audience “ How Students will benefit from NEP”. In her speech she illuminated the students on how the change in the learning environment and the learning process would benefit the students.Attention was paid on how the skills could be impressed and learningopportunities for pre-primary, opoen and distance learning students could be developed.

On the second Dr. AseervadhamAchary, former IRS Chaired the Technical Session IV. In his special address on “Research and Innovation under NEP”, he deliberated on how the younger generation who are keen in excelling in research field could attain their goal. Following the interaction session Research scholars and Professors from various institutions presented their papers. Nearly 240 Research Scholars and faculty members participated and benefited. the conference came to an end with national Anthem.

About the College

Sri G.V.G. Visalakshi College for Women (Autonomous), affiliated to Bharathiar University was founded in 1952. The college located near the NH83 opens up in the magnificent stone edifice which combines the historical strength and modern marvels. The rich heritage is carried forward under the leadership of the Managing Trustee Smt. Sumathi Krishnaprasad. The college gained its autonomy in the year 1995. On an uphill ascent to accomplish the acme of excellence in quality an ardent venture was undertaken to go in for the third phase of reaccreditation which was duly awarded with A grade with CGPA of 3.53 out of 4. The meticulous planning diligent effort to sustain quality and the impeccable execution has brought the crowning glory A+ grade in the fourth cycle of NAAC reaccreditation in 2019.

The college offers quality education with rich blend of traditional and modern courses to cater the global needs. The institution offers 8 Undergraduate programmes and 4 Postgraduates programmes in the Aided stream, 14 UG & 4 PG Self –financing programmes and 6 research programmes.

About the Conference

Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world - Nelson Mandela

To achieve the goal of transforming India into a vibrant knowledge society by making education more comprehensive, flexible, skill based, multidisciplinary and holistic, Government of India has launched the “National Education Policy 2020”. NEP 2020 envisions to bring about significant reforms in higher education to create global standards of education. Effective implementation of NEP requires thorough understanding of its significant features. With this intention, the Curriculum Development Cell and the IQAC of Sri G.V.G. Visalakshi College for Women, Udumalpet jointly organize this Conference on “Paradigm shift in Education for 21st Century: National Education Policy”.

The conference aims to reflect the ground realities on addressing how NEP 2020 will prove to be a pivotal fact in terms of meeting the country's inclusive development goals while also establishing a robust community. This conference also holds the vision of engaging academic fraternity in meaningful assignment along with spreading awareness regarding NEP which will contribute towards the intellectual wealth of the nation.

Objectives of the conference:

- To sensitize awareness on the perceptions of the NEP 2020.
- To identify and bridge the gaps in curriculum and attainment of learning outcomes.
- To deliberate the requisite governing reforms, faculty upgradation and student flexibility integral for effective implementation of NEP 2020
- To assess the impact of National Education Policy on higher education

Who should attend?

The conference is open for Administrators, Principals, Faculty, Researchers, Industry and Academic Trainers.

Conference Focus Themes

- Facilitating Access to Quality Higher Education: The pathway for New India
- Moving from policy to implementation: Reform, Perform and Transform
- NEP 2020: Framework to implement Entrepreneurship Education to Transform Higher Education in India
- Building collaborative research culture through implementation of National Education policy - 2020
- NEP 2020 for India as Global Education destination
- Academic Bank of Credit

- Cut back. If work and home are constantly competing for your time, then you need to make the choice to cut back on one or the other. (Boundaries)
- Otherwise, you will keep yourself stressed and unhappy. Take a look at your life to determine which side needs greater boundaries.
- If you are a working mother, cutting down on your work hours may be the key to feeling more content. Research shows that women are generally happier when they cut back on work for the sake of meeting family needs.

NAAC sponsored Two Day National Seminar on Emerging Trends in Quality Education: The Road Ahead

Report

Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Sri GVG Visalakshi College for Women (Autonomous) Udumalpet organized a NAAC- sponsored two- day National seminar on “Emerging Trends in Quality Education: The Road Ahead” on 27.06.2022 and 28.06.2022. 243 faculty members were registered and participated in this online using the Google meet platform. The participants are from Karnataka, Maharashtra, Andraparadesh, Uttarpradesh, and Tamilnadu. The main objective of the seminar is to bring the light on quality in the education more than ever before. Quality education implies not only equipping the students with the requisite knowledge and skills for their chosen career.

Institute, Dindigul delivered his speech on the topic “Quality Concerns in Educational Research”. He stated that practice- oriented educational research is intended to contribute to educational research and practice. The research should react the two-fold objective and quality of practice-orientated education and at the same time, it should be based on scientific and practical standards. His views on research are observed in three concepts. The research can be measured by any one of these components either on quality, value, and subjective. He also mentioned about core meanings of Quality in providing excellence, being exceptional, providing value for money, meeting customers’ needs, having zero defects, etc. Then the resource person has explained how to provide specialized training courses as per social and economic needs. This session also enriched how to promote international cooperation through the internationalization of Research, Technology, and Networking. Types of Research and how to produce quality research were also explained clearly in a nutshell. Finally, the session was concluded with publication in Scopus, Web of Science, UGC Care list Group1 and Group 2, Books and Book Chapter publications, Patterns, and IPR and also stated the disadvantage of publishing articles in Predatory Journals. Participants raised and clarified their doubts.

Needed Measures for Quality Education:

The 21st Century's Knowledge-driven society has “Quality” as its defining element. Defining Quality in Education through quality parameters has been prescribed and the institutions of Higher Education are rated based on their performance related to quality parameters like examination results, Students’ employment after graduation, the reputation of the institution based on external reports, and so on.....Though there may be different degrees or grades in quality, broadly it could mean that quality is the difference between the average and the excellent. It is the difference between failure and success. Ensuring that all get the same kind of Education ensures equity; using the right methodology ensures quality.

Prof. Amita Pandey Bhardwaj focussed the presentation on Quality Education, Needed Measures, and Strategies. She presented that World over several decades has been put forth on “quality in higher education”. Quality is seen as a relative concept satisfying the priorities of different interest groups of beneficiaries. These beneficiaries are students, teachers, technical and administrative staff, parents, would-be employees, funding agencies, and society. In a manufacturing industry, the input (the product) is pre-determined and the user needs to be assured of the quality of the product. However, in education, every element – the input, the process, and the output – is a human being therefore, dealt with such a simplistic approach.

The resource person highlighted how to improve the quality of Higher Education. The resource person has explained the Revolutionary changes in education due to the rapid explosion of knowledge, skill, and technological advancement. She ensures inclusive and equitable Quality Education and promotes Life Learning. The power of Quality Education was also mentioned. Quality Education has the power to transform Societies into a single generation and provide children with the protection they need. The session highlighted the empowerment of Teachers, Task centered Curriculum, Technology integration, etc., Can do and Will do Analysis was also taught in this session. The Resource Person insisted that Action Research and its interventions at Skill Level and Will Level as an Action Research Strategy. She insists the programs based on the Multi Channelling Approach to learning are designed to give opportunities for inculcating various pedagogic skills, especially communication. The next question and the relevant one to be answered is, How to improve the quality of higher education? One of the answers to this question is that concepts adopted in the pro t-centered business and industrial organizations can be adopted to improve the standard in educational institutions too. The debate whether the ideas and methods relating to business and industrial or other pro t-making organizations are relevant to educational institutions which are service-oriented and not pro t-oriented, is no longer of serious importance, as, in several countries, there is a transfer of three industry-based concepts to educational management. It is in this context that the TQM is suggested as a way to improve the quality of education imparted in the centers of higher learning.

To sum up, TQM implies:

- Serious concern for improving quality “at all levels”.
- Giving utmost importance to the customers’ demands, treating the customer.
- As a sovereign and trying to the satisfying customer fully.
- Management’s total commitment to enhancing the quality of the products.
- Setting up goals and planning in advance for upgrading quality.
- Removing the defects in the process of production, and improving the process at all levels.

TQM in India

TQM, as a means for quality enhancement, has not been followed by Indian universities and colleges so far. In our country also, TQM can be adopted by educational institutions, and a beginning may be made with a few universities and colleges. Improving quality in higher education must become a great and existing challenge to all concerned in the coming years, as the quality of education determines the status of the country and TQM is an approach worth meeting that great challenge. Improvement of quality is possible only with a concerted program of action. Quality is never by chance. As John Ruskin most expressly puts it “quality is never an accident, it is always the result of intelligent effort”.

Various suggestions for improving the quality of higher education are:

- Increasing the budgetary allocation for education, at least 6% of the DGP. Improving the basic infrastructural facilities in colleges and universities.
- Improving the standards of school education.
- Academic audit of the institutions of higher education.
- Revising and updating the syllabi in all subjects.
- A central of TQM is that “Mistakes may be made by people, but most of them are caused, or at least permitted, by faulty systems and processes. This means that the root cause of such mistakes can be identified and eliminated, and repetition can be prevented by changing the process”.

Teachers and Quality education

Of all the ingredients of quality education, the most important is the dedicated faculty. A college or university may not have good buildings, furniture, playgrounds, and even well-equipped laboratories and a library. But if the teachers there are enthusiastic, highly motivated, and committed to their task, the students are likely to have the best education. Good scientific equipment, a good library, and facilities for the staff and students are necessary to have high standards.

Not confined to the classroom:

Quality teaching is not confined to the classroom or the laboratory. Its area is wide and unlimited. A teacher has to be a friend, guide, philosopher, and nurse to his students as Nature was to Wordsworth. For promoting quality education, the teachers have to guide and counsel their students even outside the classroom.

Intellectual Intrepidity:

The greatest malady in the present system of education is that it makes the students initiate, rather than creative. From primary classes to university classes, students are trained to assimilate passively. They are given very few opportunities to express themselves actively

Modern Management:

The university system needs modern management to cope with the demands of the times. Some of the major recommendations of the committee regarding the universities should conduct the external evaluation, using the reports thereof; take follow-up action to tone up quality. Performance Indicators and Process Indicators

Performance Indicators:

The activity on the campus can be described in terms of industrial terminology as the “Process Activity”. What happens in the classrooms and outside the classrooms on the campuses of educational institutions gives us an idea of the functioning.

Process Indicators

A simple and easy yardstick to evaluate the work of a university or college is to know the number of working days in an academic year. The number of working days done is a good process indicator. The UGC has been prescribed for 180 days in an academic year. It is common knowledge that many universities and colleges do not have even 100 working days in an academic year.

Examination Results

Many people use examination results as an indicator of the performance of an educational institution. It is considered a simple standard and verifiable indicator to evaluate the performance of a college or university. Jill Johnes and Jim Taylor, in their book “Performance Indicators in Higher Education”, have described examination results as an “attractive variable for measuring the quality of education”.

Admission into Higher Courses

Admission of students in the higher courses can also be a PI for an institution of higher education. If many graduates from a college are admitted in PG/Higher Courses, it can be presumed that the performance of the college is good. Similarly, if the post-graduates of a college can get admission in M.Phil and Ph.D. courses, the performance of those institutions can be rated as good. The success of students in the examinations conducted by the UGC like NET, JRF, etc., are also indicators of the good performance of institutions. The research work of the faculty is another important PI for a college/university.

Academic Audit

The report of Justice Dr.K.Punnayya Committee 1992-93 has recommended the adoption of the British practice of academic audit with appropriate modifications to suit requirements.

The committee has been impressed with three important features of the academic audit program in the UK such as:

- It has been the universities own initiative and is largely a self-directed exercise.
 - The individual institution has been given the responsibility for adopting quality improvement programs, thus retaining its autonomy and initiative; and
 - A small external audit unit oversees that the practice is widely adopted in the UK.
 - The External audit unit is expected to monitor the universities quality assurance mechanisms by examining and commenting upon: a) mechanism for quality assurance, improvement, and design of courses and programs of study;
 - Mechanism for quality assurance in teaching, learning, and examination; and mechanism for quality assurance taking into account:
 - External examiner report.
 - Students view programs of studies, and
 - Views of external bodies, professional accreditation bodies' employers, and validating institutions.

The three-dimensional strategy of quality assurance

The level of institutional quality depends not only on an institution's educational processes and resources but also on the institution's successful use of these processes and resources to achieve the established goals. An institution must engage in continuous study, analysis, and appraisal of its purposes, policies, procedures, and programs, since it has an obligation to all constituents to assure effectiveness in management. In this context, the NAAC has a mandate not only to assess and accredit universities and colleges, but also to involve in a three-dimensional strategy of Quality Assurance- Quality Assessment (QA), Quality Sustenance (QS), and Quality Enhancement (QE).

Session: IV

Dr. A.Vimal Jerald, Assistant Professor, Department of Computer Science, St. Joseph's College, Tiruchirapalli is an ardent supporter of introducing and adopting innovations in higher education through ICT. The Chief Guest was introduced by Dr. P.Renuga, Associate Professor and Head of English (SF).

- Dr. Vimal Jerald, in his technical session reiterated the need for Nurturing Excellence through Best Practices in ICT-based TLE. He informed that there are many best practices of the college leading to quality sustenance and enhancement through ICT-enabled teaching-learning.
- Dr. Vimal Jerald delivered his lecture on explaining how to bring ICT Based Teaching and Learning into Higher Education. It is a Student Centric Method. So every student should be concentrated. In 2021 The Government of India and the State Governments have implemented blended learning into Education.
- He insisted on Blended learning with Digital Resources, One on One Coaching, Individual Attention, Exposure to different Platforms, etc.,

- While insisting upon the need for best practice in ICT-based TLE, he sought to ensure that the Best Practice in college should be Unique, it should be Achievable, and Measurable both in Quantity and Quality.

- We all could know how to ensure Technology in Teaching through integrating LMS, ICT Tools for Teaching, ICT Tools for Interaction, ICT Tools for Activities and integrate ERP.
- Dr. Vimal Jerald also highlighted the benefits and advantages of ICT Learning. ICT learning provides a strong platform and reduces paperwork. It also develops creativity and self-learning. It makes learning easy and encourages peer teaching.
- The Resource person has asked the participants to maintain Digital Diaries. He stressed enhancing the students with URLs – where they can find, and explore beyond the syllabus activities for Learning. Then some of the digital learning platforms like Google Workspace for education, Digital Diary notes, Mind Mapping Tools, URL- Web Resources, etc.. were also explained clearly.
- According to him the Best Practice can be enriched through MOOCs, SWAYAM, NPTEL, etc. Because at present 40% of the Syllabus can be avail through online.
- Finally, the session focused on the ICT Tools like Google Classroom, Google Meet, Moodle Cloud, EDMODO, VEYON, Nearpod, Socrative, Kahoot, Quizizz, Testmoz, Classroom Screen, Slido, Mentimeter, Google Jam board, Google Lens, etc., He explained clearly about each and everything on the above Tools.

The lecture delivered during today's session on "Nurturing Excellence through Best Practices in ICT-based TLE" by Dr. Vimal Jerald served as an eye opener for the participants.
